It's your turn to speak out about the quality-of-life issues that are troubling both long-time and Market-Rate residents. We're inviting Tishman Speyer to have an executive present to learn what's on our minds.

TO SPEAK YOUR PIECE:

1. Sign in at the SPEAKER'S DESK before entering the auditorium. Speakers will be called in the order that they signed in. Doors open at 1:30pm.
2. Limit your talk to no more than two minutes. (Time yourself at home, first.) Speakers will be cut off if they go over the time limit. That will give almost 30 people a chance in one hour.
3. You may give your name but don't have to. However, please state your building address clearly so the ST/PCV-TA or management can follow up on your complaint.

ALSO ON THE AGENDA:

An update on Stuyvesant Town MCIs

Our elected representatives – Congresswoman Carolyn Maloney, State Senator Tom Duane, Assemblyman Brian Kavanagh, City Council Member Dan Garodnick – with their take on how issues in the news will affect us.

Tenant advocate Michael McKee on what you can do in the coming elections to help achieve a pro-tenant Senate in Albany.
